Class Two have been recounting their own experiences in their writing this week. Their maths work has set problems to solve using many techniques including revision of previously learnt addition, division and multiplication tasks. Continuing their work on Egyptians, the class have designed beautiful amulets, keep up the good work Class Two.

Class One are developing their skills with money in maths, and reviewing poems about buildings and homes. The children then performed their favourite poems, some splendid performances. Well done on your insightful conversations regarding healthy eating and exercise Class One, your mature attitudes will stand you in good stead in the future.

Class Three have been busy with maths this week. Year 5 have been estimating and weighing using balances. Year 6 have been converting g to kg and vice versa and investigating the weight of water.

In geography the class have begun considering climate change and examining the Gambia.

Mrs Battelle has had a busy week preparing all the usual hot meals and sandwich and wrap options in addition!

Thank You very much to Will & Adam Hayward for their tree work at school over 1/2 term

FOBS need to announce with regret that the continuing wet weather has waterlogged the football pitch at Cressage that was to be the venue for the Church Preen vs Brockton parents football match.

They hope that all those who had volunteered for the team, and those hoping to support them will be able to make the rearranged date of 28th March.

Inspired by the PD day training the staff are revitalising the library and highlighting some popular authors, to help deepen children's understanding of literature and to inspire reading for pleasure. If anyone has any books to donate by particular authors Brockton School would be delighted to receive them. This week we're asking for books by David Walliams

Mr Lockley wishes to thank the children and parents that helped to clear the branches and brash left behind after the tree work over half term. It has made a tremendous difference to the school site, a big improvement noticed by children, parents and visitors. Well Done!

WELL DONE CERTIFICATES

Rose—excellent at using pennies to make different amounts

Albert— Super reading and comprehension

Ewan—Recount writing of grounds day

Dan T—Enthusiasm and hard work on grounds day

Xander—concentration and hard work and enjoying a laugh and joke

Torrin—continual dedication and getting a top example

Kitchen Notice

Please return the order form for cold dinners by the Monday of the week before they are required to enable the supplies to be ordered in good time.

Please put you child's name and the date of the week the lunches are to be eaten on the form.

Thank You in advance, this trial will continue until Easter Holidays at which point a review will decide whether the offer of cold dinners has improved up-take of school lunches.
