Class Two have been busy looking at the geography of Egypt, and indeed of the UK, whilst also practising for young voices this week.

They have also been tackling some tricky maths problems in true Countdown style!

Class One are practising for a future career as estate and travel agents this week. They have been creating wonderful brochures to offer the Squash and a Squeeze house for sale, creating tourist brochures singing Brockton's praises as a top destination and looking at missing numbers too.

Class Two had fun teaching
Class Three to walk like an Egyptian!

PE kits to be in school every day each week
Please label your children's clothes

Class Three have been calculating percentages, investigating states of matter with water and doing some persuasive writing. Watch out for the pile of letters arriving on your desk soon Mr. Tinker, some members of Class three have been very pragmatic and others have been positively fanciful, but each pretty persuasive!

Good Luck to all the Young Voices participants at the Genting Arena tonight, and Mrs Cowper has a special thank you to Georgina for her boundless enthusiasm for the choir practice!

Is your child in it to win it??
